

Directions to Hair of the Dog Farm, 161 Ashburnham Road, New Ipswich, NH

From eastern Massachusetts: Take route 119 west through Ashby center. After you've left the quaint village area, you'll pass Mr. Mike's Mobil on the left. Just after Mr. Mike's, turn right onto West Road. Follow West Road for about 3 miles, and then turn right onto route 123A. (This is still West Road, but in a couple thousand feet you're in NH, and it becomes Ashburnham Road.) * Go about one mile and you'll see Hair of the Dog Farm on the left. Big open field with a pond, white farmhouse and barn, paddocks, green outbuildings. It's directly across the street from Totem Pole Kennels. Call if you need more help. 603-878-4879.

From Brattleboro, VT: Take route 119 east for about 45 minutes through Rindge, NH. About 2.5 miles over the MA border into Ashby, go past the junction of route 101 and 100' later take a left onto Pillsbury Road. Go a couple miles on Pillsbury Rd., passing Bennett Road on the left and later a picturesque brick house. The next left is West Road. Turn left onto West Road, and proceed as * above.

From northern NH: Take US 93 south to Concord, NH. Take US 202 south to Peterborough (about an hour from Concord). At the route 101 intersection, take a left and go about a mile up a hill. At the flashing light, take a right onto route 123, towards Sharon. It takes about 10-15 minutes to go through Sharon to reach the intersection of route 124. Take a left towards New Ipswich on 124. At the bottom of the hill coming into New Ipswich town center is a sign for 123A. Take a right at the sign and follow the route 123A signs south. After a mile or two, 123A goes left at a stop sign. Another mile or two and 123A requires a right turn. At this last turn, 123A becomes Ashburnham Road. Hair of the Dog Farm is on the right side of the road in just over a mile. White farmhouse and attached barn, sign, pond, green outbuildings. If you cross into MA, you've gone too far.
